

Social-Emotional Development Is Important for:

- Understanding thoughts and feelings to help communicate and act appropriately
- Developing healthy relationships with friends and family

These steps help children live happy, successful lives.

Social-Emotional Skills Impact Daily Life

Social-emotional skills allow us to express ourselves appropriately in different environments and with different people. Developing these skills helps boost your child's confidence and can help them in school, work, and life.

- Succeed in school
- Make friends and maintain friendships
- Resolve conflicts
- Manage stress and anxiety
- Learn social norms
- Make appropriate decisions
- Resist negative social pressure
- Learn our strengths and weaknesses
- Gain awareness of what others are feeling

Where To Go for Help

Recognizing an issue early is always best. Children may show different warning signs for social-emotional issues. If you have a concern talk to your healthcare provider. There are many specialists who may help including:

- Child psychologist
- Social worker
- Neuropsychologist
- Psychiatrist
- Occupational therapist
- Speech-language pathologist
- Developmental and behavioral pediatrician

Social-Emotional Development Tips

- ▶ Model the emotions and behavior you want your child to show
- ▶ Be responsive to your child's emotions and behaviors. Respond quickly to basic needs to develop trust, e.g. feeding, playing, soothing, and comforting them
- ▶ Help your child work through negative emotions by asking simple questions, offering choices and avoiding power struggles, e.g. "Would you like to brush your teeth or take a bath first?"
- ▶ Point out and talk about your child's emotions and how to cope
- ▶ Use stories to talk about different social situations and how each person might be feeling
- ▶ Ask "What would you do?" to help develop problem solving skills
- ▶ Encourage kids to try new things and learn how much they are capable of
- ▶ Play games to teach kids how to take turns, win and lose, share, and negotiate
- ▶ When using screens after 18 months (not recommended earlier), sit with your child and make it a social activity, e.g. asking them questions or playing turn-taking games
